Darrin's Dissertation

The 100 Yard Range Remodel project is coming along nicely. As I write this, the concrete has been poured, the steel structure has been installed, and the shooting benches have been moved back to the new structure.

We have come a long way on this project and there were many people who have contributed many hours of effort to get it done. Ordinarily, I like to list off the specific people who contributed to a project but there are so many, and I only have one page to fit this article in.

There was a lot of effort put into the planning and engineering of the project as well as the adjustments made along the way to make it a first-class project. Volunteers spent many hours tearing down the old structure and salvaging materials that were later used for making the concrete forms and making the temporary firing line more stable during construction. Numerous truckloads of road base were delivered, spread, and compacted to make a solid foundation to set rebar and build forms for the new concrete slab. The rebar was laid out and wired together and the pier forms were set up and suspended. We hired a team of finishers to get the concrete slab poured and finished properly the first time and it all went according to the plan. When the installers delivered and erected the steel structure a few days later, it was assembled and ready in just two days.

As it stands today, there are a few remaining tasks to be done. We need to paint the Firing Line (red), Safety Line (yellow), and Spectator Line (blue). The installation of the electrical systems (outlets, overhead lights, and blinking blue lights) needs to be done as well. The Fire Lane (between the parking lot and the concrete slab) needs some grading and finishing and there are a few other tasks along the way that need to be done as well.

Now there is light at the end of the tunnel. Hopefully, that light is not an oncoming train. As this project is finally coming to an end, I think that we all have a lot to be proud of. I'm looking forward to bringing my grandson there to shoot someday and telling him all about how it came together because of an excellent team.

Harold Itchkawich died on July 17. He was very active at EF&GA, shooting in several matches and scoring for Trap Shoots. A Celebration of his Life and Military Honors will be held on September 8 at 11:00 am at the North County Veterans Association, 1617 Mission Ave., Oceanside.

Norb Spitzer is organizing a lunch. If anyone is interested in attending, please contact Norb at: nspitzer@sbcglobal.net

July Work Party

The expected heat kept the turn out low for our July Work Party, but the productivity was high. We got a lot done including preparation for pouring the new concrete slab on the 100 Yard Range. Lunch was provided complete with our customary no charge raffle.

We have a large group of dedicated members that rarely miss a Work Party. One of our members, Nick Quon, enjoys the Work Parties so much that he even chose to spend his 26th birthday with us that day. (We really need to work on our Happy Birthday song.) Nathan Elliott also joined us for the day after his 21st birthday. Both of these young men are valued, highly involved members of our Association.

October Work Party

Don't miss the next Work Party, scheduled for Saturday, October 28. Mark it on your calendar. This is an easy and fun way for new members to get your required volunteer hours. First year members need a minimum of 6 hours by June 30. Members in years 2-5 need a minimum of 4 hours. Don't wait until the last minute to complete your hours. Things happen in life that may change your intentions.

August General Meeting

What could possibly be more fun than the Work Party? Perhaps the General Membership Meetings. If you haven't been to one, you're missing a lot of fun. The August General Membership Meeting was held Thursday, August 10. We got an update on all of the various shoots going on around the range and a special update on the 100 Yard Range Project. Cap that off with a couple of "rousing raffles" and snacks to complete the night.

The $25 door prize was won by Bob Leider. Charles Duchock, John Dufresne and Steve Strapac each had a chance to take home the $300 attendance prize. Since they weren't in attendance, the prize will grow to $400 for the September meeting. You have to be present to win.

Ray Bucholz and Pamela Tucker gave away a 44 muzzleloading revolver. Jack Starlin was the lucky winner. Jeanine Cleary, Leonard Hodges, Ian Eaton and Jack also won valuable coin sets.

Bud Smith, Elvio Marchi and I again hosted the general raffle. Many members made additional contributions to the raffle table to spice it up. Many thanks to our August contributors: Jim Fratis, Steve Baran, Pete Cypher, Jim Rolfes, Frank Alessio, Bob Leider, Therese Thomas, Rich Oberle, Eric Elsam, Dean Schumacher, Mark Baldwin, Clyde Ewin, Rob Davis, Moose Cleary, Elvio Marchi and Bud Smith.

Diapers Wanted.

Babies at Camp Pendleton need your help. Our drive is still going on and we can help with diapers, onesies, toys, gift cards and money. If you want to give a check please make payable to CARES. Thank you. Linda Linaker

Donations Above and Beyond

The last of the membership renewals are being processed. With them comes one more donation to the Association above and beyond the normal dues. A big Thank You to Paul Fredericks along with all the donors acknowledged in previous issues for your support. You are appreciated.

100 Yard Range Project

WooHoo!!! The slab is poured. The structure is up. The 100 Yard Range Remodel is already nearing completion. We're ready for some peripheral grading, painting the lines, flashing "Range Cold" lights and a few other finishing touches. Jack Starlin would encourage any comments (good and bad) on the structure or suggestions for improvements, upgrades, etc. to engrjack@cox.net

A huge thank you to Dave Robertson for countless hours of hard work on this project. When you see Dave, make sure you show him your appreciation.

Enjoy a few photos chronicling the progress of the project.

been placed on the Pistol, Trap, 100 and 150 yard ranges. Read them and make sure you and your guests understand them and follow all the rules.

Blinking Blue Lights

Blue Blinking lights on or off applies to all ranges. If the Blue Blinking lights are on, do not unload firearms or gear. Sign the Green Sheet and wait for the range to go hot. Then you can unload your firearms and gear. Firearms must be uncased at the firing line.

The Green Sheets

Everyone must sign the Green Sheets, even if they are not shooting. When you sign the Green Sheets please make sure the date and range fields are filled in. We are still getting Green Sheets turned in without the proper date and range information.

Target Disposal

Remove your targets from the target backers and return the target frames back to the designated area. Do Not Dispose of your targets in the trash. Take Them Home. This is, unfortunately, a Hazmat requirement.

Wildlife

Watch for Turkeys and Deer on the range. If wildlife of any kind wanders onto the range, call a "Cease Fire". Wait for the wildlife to leave before you resume shooting. There are no circumstances in which shooting the wildlife is acceptable.

Take Everything Home

Take a look around you before you leave the range. Do you have everything you brought with you?

Contact

If you have any comments, concerns or questions please feel free to contact me at 760-420-7488 or garymfukuda@cox.net

TRAP CORNER

by Chris Cote

Hello Trap/5 stand/POT shooters.

Couple of house keeping items:

Take Hulls Home

Remember to Take your Hulls Home. Remind others to do the same if you see them throwing hulls into the trash cans. We have been finding hulls in the trash again.

Blue Bins

The blue bins are for cans and bottles, not cardboard. Cardboard can go in the dumpster or trash cans.

Cold range lights

The cold range lights on the light poles have been wired up. Remember that when the trap range is cold, like all other ranges, you should not be handling your shotgun.

InterClub Shoot

We hosted the Interclub Shoot on August 12th. Thank you to all who showed up to shoot. Special thank you to Annette Champion and Mark Eller who helped score all day long.

We had 54 shooters (21 from EF&GA) from 5 clubs. Lemon Grove was the overall winner.

High man was Garret Doornevreerd of Maywood with a 92

High woman was Reynalou Linamen of Redlands with an 88

High Escondido shooter was Danny Godinho with a 90.

August Junior Pistol

The Junior Pistol and Junior Archery events for August 20 were cancelled due to impending bad weather. The Junior Marksmanship Program will resume its normal schedule in September.

RULES TO LIVE BY

- 1. Treat every firearm as if it were loaded
- 2. Never point your firearm at anything you don't intend to shoot
- 3. Keep your finger straight and off the trigger until you intend to fire
- 4. Know your target and the surroundings

Coaches Class

On October 22nd we will be teaching a Coaches Class. In this class you will be taught the proper way to teach the various disciplines including pistol, rifle, and trap. This class is open to anyone who wants to learn how to coach any or all these disciplines for any program at the Escondido Fish and Game Association. You will be amazed at how much better your own shooting will become when you learn how to coach. Knowing how to shoot and knowing how to teach shooting are two completely different skills. In this class, you will learn how to work with very new shooters. As well as learning to spot small mistakes that can make a big difference in how you shoot. If you're an experienced coach or new to coaching, everyone is welcome. Lunch will be provided. Please RSVP with Ren Everett everettju1@cox.net or Patrick Russ pruss@escondidofishandgame.com

In the Junior Marksmanship Program we pride ourselves on providing the best shooting events, but we can't do it without great coaches. The funny thing is that shooting is just one aspect of what the Junior Program teaches. In a world that often says that they are too young, or they can't be trusted, even ignored or belittled, especially when they ask about firearms, this is a huge confidence booster to these kids. I've seen it many times, when a child gets done with a Junior Marksmanship event, they walk taller, they smile more, they are more engaged in what is going on around them. They want to be that trustworthy person that they were just shown that they could be. Some even start to get better grades in school because they don't want to be that dummy with a firearm. The idea that they are being allowed to do something that for many people is forbidden is very exciting to many kids. The discipline and focus that marksmanship requires, combined with the stigma of firearms, can not only bring a new level of self-confidence, but it can also improve the bonds of trust between the child and the adults around them.

The Junior Marksmanship program strives to make every event a learning opportunity. We do this by constantly "Coaching Up", by focusing on the good and working to strengthen the weaknesses. Because we Coach Up, we have many kids that return month after month. They want to learn. They want to have fun and be a part of the program. These kids are not just a number, they are participants. Many of them ask me how they can help. They help set up and tear down the range. They are happy to help because it is their program. I want to thank all of the coaches that come out every month and work tirelessly to give our kids these opportunities.

BLACK POWDER NEWS

by Garth Warner

Last Contest: Was on July 23rd. This was scheduled to be a "Mid-Range" event with targets to 125 yds. Mother nature stepped in and the forecast was for a heat advisory and "you're all going to melt" warnings.

In deference to our more "mature" shooters (me), I decided to make this one a Super Short Range to keep everybody under the range house and minimize long walks in the sunshine. True to form the weather dawned clear and hot. By the time the contest started it became cloudy. By mid-way through the rifle contest it started to sprinkle..... Consequently most shooters did well. We even had two perfect scores for the first time in recent memory. I really need to stop making these contests too easy.....

By the time this is posted in the Newsletter we will have completed the Annual Top Gun Contest. Results will be published next month.

Next Bullseye Muzzle Loading Contest: Will be on Sept 3rd. This will be a "3 Gun" event for Pistol, Rifle, and Trade Gun. For those of you that do not have a Trade Gun, you can shoot an extra Rifle target to "maybe" improve your classification average. The safety briefing will be held at 07:45, and the contest will start at 08:00. Contact Garth Warner for details.

Note: We are going to be on the 100 Yard Range for this one. We will transition back to the 150 Yard Range in October.

Traditional Archery: Archers of the Lake (AotL) will hold a CA600 course of fire. All shots will be from a 20 yd distance on a 40 CM target. This event will start around 10:30 (ish) following the above 3 gun contest. We are going to use the main archery range for this, so plan accordingly. If the pistol range is packed plan on parking by the flag pole and hiking in with your gear. Contact David Premetz for details

At a recent Primitive Archery contest, we noted that we had made "Happy Minions" target faces. This was for a "plates" course of fire at 15, 20, 25, and 30 yds.

Muzzle Loading Silhouette: Greenhorn September starts our next beginner event. If you have a Muzzle Loader and have been thinking you will "give it a try", this is the event for you. This is scheduled as a "Super Short" event with targets at 25, 50, and 75 yds. We start with single shot pistol or cap and ball revolvers at 08:30. Rifle starts at 10:00. For this Super Short contest we will also feature a Trade Gun Class.

If you have the gear, we will help you learn to shoot black powder. We shoot replica flintlock or percussion firearms with patched round ball only. We do have a BP Cartridge class as well. Please contact Garth Warner for details.

MUZZLELOADING SILHOUETTE CONTEST RESULTS FOR July 23, 2023

This event was scheduled as a Mid-Range event with targets from 75 to 125 yds.

Forecasted record heat made me change the event to a Super Short Range to keep everyone inside the Range House and out of the sun. Targets were set at 25, 50, and 75 yds. (No one seemed to mind.) The weather started out HOT, got overcast, and then it rained lightly.

We had a record breaking TWO shooters score possibles at the same time.

Elvio Marchi brought a brand new shooter for his first ever contest. (We all gave him un-needed advice unmercifully.) The new shooter, Mark Cederquist, shot a credible 12 out of 18 for his very first event.

It's "CANT", not "CAN'T"

by Jim McKim

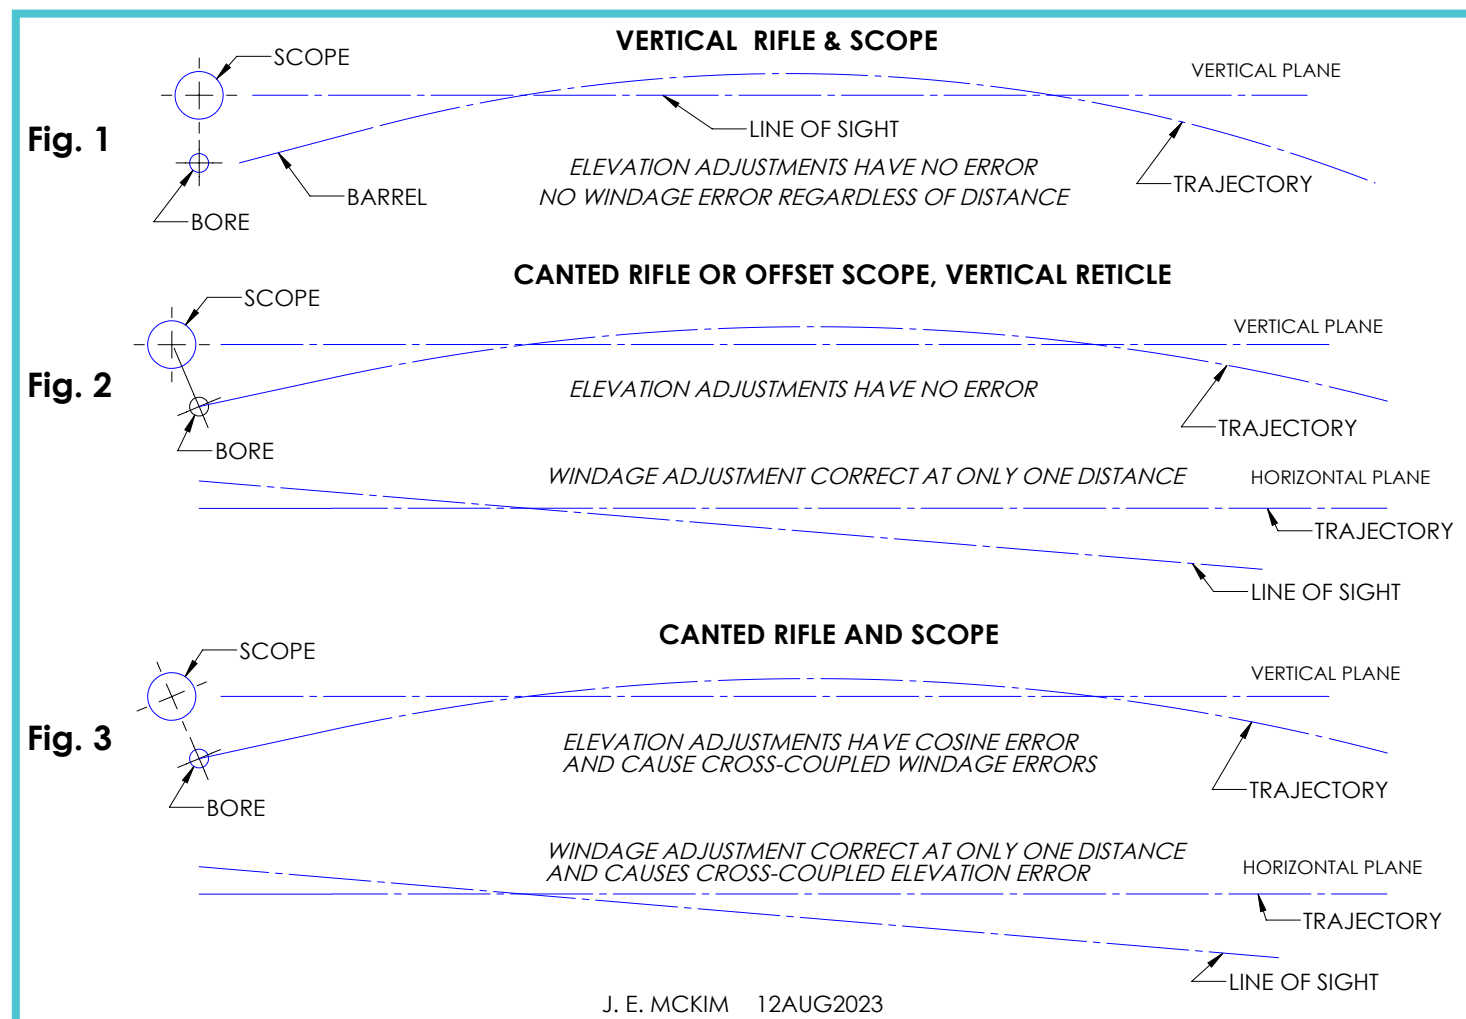

"Cant", synonymous with "tilt", is the angle of something relative to a reference. For a shotgun, it is the angle between the buttstock and the receiver and barrel(s) and is intentional to aid in pointing when the gun is mounted naturally (and quickly) to the shoulder. High-end target rifles will have adjustable buttplates that can be canted relative to the rest of the rifle so that the sights will be directly above the bore, i.e., a line drawn through the bore and the line of sight will be vertical when the shooter is holding the gun in a natural position. Those rifles will also have a bubble level to indicate to the shooter that the gun is oriented properly. This "perfect" orientation is shown on the left in Fig. 1 below. An extension of the elevation reticle line passes right through the center of the bore and the rifle is held such that that line is vertical. Elevation adjustments will be true, say 1/4 MOA per click, as will windage adjustments, and there is no windage error regardless of distance.

Most rifles don't have an adjustable buttplate, and it is easy for a shooter to tilt, or cant, the rifle one way or another relative to vertical, especially if the background in their field of view is not level. For a right-handed shooter, the most likely direction is counter-clockwise, a natural result of anatomy. This places the sights, whether they are open sights or a scope, to the left of the bore, as shown in Figs. 2 & 3 below. If the sights are zeroed at a particular distance and all shooting is done at that distance AND the gun is canted the same every time, then no problem- zero will still be zero (where the line of sight and trajectory cross). But at any other distance than that, there will be a windage error and potentially an elevation adjustment error.

Fig. 2 shows a canted rifle with a scope "uncanted" such that its reticle and adjustments are truly vertical and horizontal. This is what you might get by mounting and aligning a scope by eye. (An extreme version of this is an M1C or M1D, the scope being offset mounted to allow top loading with an en bloc clip.) Elevation adjustments will be true, as will windage adjustments, but there will be windage error relative to the zero at any other distance. This is shown in the "HORIZONTAL PLANE" portion of Fig. 2.

If the scope was mounted using alignment tools so that the rig looks like Fig. 1 when leveled but is held like Fig. 3 when shooting (exaggerated for illustration purposes), then more errors creep in. Not only will there be the windage error at any non-zero distance as above, but elevation and windage adjustments will be off, and induce a cross-coupled error in the other axis as well. If the cant angle is "A", the adjustments will be multiplied by the cosine of "A" (always less than 1) and the cross-coupled error will be the adjustment times the sine of "A".

How much of this matters? Classic engineering answer: it depends. It depends on the cant angle, the distances you are shooting, and how much you care about being off. Obviously, for long range precision shooting, critical. For plinking away at 50 vs. 100 yards, probably not noticeable unless you're way off. I never worked out the math for a representative example, but I hope you find the theoretical aspect good to know and useful. Any questions, feel free to contact me (see Shoot Chairs list on Page 6).

Relive the simpler days of Old California with us...

Rancho Guejito Vineyard grows its grapes in the fine soils and climates of the last remaining intact Mexican land grant in California. Our 23,000 acre ranch was established in 1845. Nearly 175 years later, we have kept the tradition of cattle ranching, agriculture, and wine making alive.

Visit us every weekend for hayride tours, live music, and wine tasting.
